Dear Hiring Committee,

I am writing to apply for the Senior Product Designer position at Meridian Design Studio. Your recent redesign of the Meridian Health app — particularly the way it simplified a genuinely complex scheduling flow — is the kind of work I want to be doing, and the reason I'm reaching out directly rather than waiting for a referral.

Over the past four years at Northbeam Software, I led the redesign of our onboarding flow, raising activation from 34% to 52%, and built the company's first shared design system across four product teams. That experience taught me that the highest-leverage design work happens at the intersection of research, systems thinking, and close collaboration with engineering — exactly the balance I see reflected in Meridian's portfolio.

I would welcome the chance to talk further about how my experience with design systems and onboarding could contribute to your team. Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
